Detailed and Construction Monitoring

This project involved the detailed structural design of 4 large architecturally designed Light Industrial units in Athlone. The Company were involved in the design of the frames as well as all foundations. The foundations on this site were particularly difficult as the site is adjacent to large bog land.

After site investigation it was discovered that it was 25m to a solid strait and hence the building was piled with suspended precast floors. We also designed site services for this project.
